

Michele Knight

Well-known TV psychic and astrologer Michele, 38, took part in our predictions challenge in 2005 and proved she knows her stuff. She correctly foresaw that Victoria Beckham would deliver baby Cruz by emergency Caesarean and also have to deal with sex scandals. Michele also said that Tony Blair would consider resigning at the end of the year and that Prince Harry would fall in love (he admitted deep feelings for girlfriend Chelsy Davy). She also predicted that a soap star would break up with the father of her child. This proved true when EastEnders' Jessie Wallace (Kat Slater) had a public split from Dave Morgan, father of their little girl Tallulah. See what Michele foretells for 2006...
