GUPRI'S PROBLEM

'I'm about to uproot my life and I'm nervous. Can you give me some advice to help it go well?'

MICHELE SAYS

'You've changed your life before. You have Saturn in Aries, which indicates things changed for you around the age of 30. It would have been something that altered your outlook on life, and its effects have stayed with you since.'

'I can see another big change coming up in the next few months, something to do with travel; perhaps you're going away for a while. It will be good – you've got Venus trine Mercury (when two planets form a positive angle) at that time. You'll be feeling empowered and strong, and people will be drawn to you, as you'll be communicating well.'

'The tarot cards show that you had another big upheaval 18 months ago, which you haven't got over. Leaving the country will help you leave behind some of your recent trauma, but I don't see you staying away for very long. I predict you'll be back in two years.'

'You're a very complex character. Your sun sign is Aquarius, which can make you detached from your emotions, but you have Mars in Scorpio, which means you're very intense. These two qualities are always in conflict.'

'People see you as controlled, but that's because you're terrified of letting go. So far, you've managed to stay very together, but sooner or later something will happen that will unleash your Mars in Scorpio emotions. You probably find it quite hard to unite your intellect, which is linked to Aquarius, and your emotions, which are connected to your Mars in Scorpio. This can make relationships difficult as you intellectualise your idea of what a relationship should be.'

'You've told me your husband's birth date, and he also has Mars in Scorpio, along with a lot of his other planets. That must make your relationship difficult. He doesn't trust women and is very secretive, while you don't trust men. That's not a great basis for a relationship as you're both very suspicious.'

'You would have had lots of passion when you first met; you were probably really into him, but now you see through him. He knows that and feels disempowered. I would imagine he's furious with you and it's coming out in a very passive-aggressive way. You wind him up – try to resist this. And stop being so critical, as it's damaging your relationship.'

'You need to have regular sex! People with Mars in Scorpio are sexual beings. They tend to be really wild and have lots of passionate affairs, but can go off sex once they're committed. I sense this is what has happened with you and your husband. You need to work through it and one way to do that is to get in the habit of having regular sex with each other. As long as you don't use it in a manipulative or obsessive way, it will be healing, both for you and your relationship.'

'If you don't address this problem, there's a real danger one of you will have an affair. The Devil card in your tarot spread indicates you're on the brink of doing something impulsive, so it could well be you who's tempted to stray.'

'Have you thought about being a therapist or a psychologist at some point? You're probably thinking about another possible career, so why not consider that line of work. Mars in Scorpio can make you intuitive, so you'd be good at it. You also want to be unique – maybe when you're away you'll find something unusual to study.'

GUPRI SAYS

'Amazing! Michele was exactly right about the change I went through at 30. I studied homeopathy. I started thinking differently and not only changed the way I ate, but altered my whole lifestyle.'

'My husband, son and I are moving to Thailand in a few months; that's the big shift I'm going through. Michele is spot on about the upheaval 18 months ago. That's when I went back to work as a teacher after having my son. It was awful, I couldn't juggle it all. It's the main reason we're leaving the country – to start a new life. I won't be working, I'll just concentrate on being a wife and mum. At first, I was worried when

Michele said we'd be back in two years, as I was thinking we'd be out there for ever. But now I've decided to keep an open mind about what might happen and try to keep things in the present.'

'Although Michele didn't get everything spot on, aspects of what she said about my relationship were right. I think I do see my husband's weaknesses now. I'm hoping our new start will give our marriage a boost – and Michele's advice about sex is something to think about.'

'I have been thinking quite seriously about being a psychologist – how could Michele have known that? It's encouraging that she says I'd be good at it. It's definitely something I will look into once I get to Thailand.'
